

INSIGHTS - MATCHDAY 11

SERIE A - 2025/2026

For the first time in the history of Serie A's single-group era (from 1929/30 to the present), three teams are still winless after 10 matchdays: Fiorentina, Pisa and Verona.

Compared with Matchday 10 of the 2024/25 season, there have been 58 fewer goals: 221 have been scored in Serie A so far, versus 279 twelve months ago.

So far in the 2025/26 Serie A season, 41.6% of all goals (94 out of 226) have been scored in the final half-hour plus stoppage time.

On 7 November 1944—the day the Matchday 11 opener will be played—Gigi Riva was born. He remains Cagliari's all-time top scorer in Serie A (156 goals from 1964 to 1976) and the Italy national team's record scorer (35 goals in 42 caps, winning the 1968 European Championship). He was also Serie A's top scorer three times, in 1966/67, 1968/69 and 1969/70, with 18, 20 and 21 goals respectively.

On Saturday, 8 November, Sandro Mazzola turns 83. Born in Turin in 1942, he made his Serie A debut on 10 June 1961 in Juventus-Inter 9-1, a match in which Inter fielded their youth team and Omar Sívori scored six goals. Mazzola spent his entire career with Inter, where he won four Serie A titles, two European Cups and two Intercontinental Cups, and he was the joint Serie A top scorer in 1964/65 with 17 goals (alongside Fiorentina's Orlando). With the national team he won the 1968 European Championship.

On Sunday, 9 November, Alessandro Del Piero turns 51. Born in Conegliano Veneto, he made his debut with Padova before becoming a Juventus icon, and he is the club's all-time leader in appearances (705) and goals (289) in official competitions. He won one Viareggio Cup, six Serie A titles, one Coppa Italia, four Italian Super Cups, one UEFA Champions League, one Intercontinental Cup and one UEFA Super Cup.
